

Mossad Agent & I (Written on 13 December, 2017)

After years of observing Mossad activities as they plotted against me, I have come to identify three categories of people they use:

Mossad Agents:

I knew three of them who presented themselves as normal workers at SCGH. They are Joseph, who claimed to come from Eritrea, Tamara, who claimed to come from Zimbabwe, and Svetlana, or Katerina (not sure of the name), who claimed to come from an Eastern European country (can't recall which).

I will call her Katerina.

I guess I wasn't paying attention when she told me her name, because I never got it, yet am sure she told me her name more than once.

Mossad 'Contractors':

These are people who might not be Mossad agents, but carry out tasks given to them by Mossad knowingly, or at least could have reason to suspect they may be working for Mossad or an ally of Mossad, but they don't mind working for them.

They are ready to do unethical/illegal tasks for these shadowy characters.

An example is a senior worker at SCGH called Barbara (she was my boss, or rather the head of the whole department).

Mossad 'Unknowing Associates':

These are people who are 100% innocent.

They carry out tasks for Mossad unknowingly, and would be greatly offended if they found out Mossad was behind their actions.

An example is a guy called Ali that I have referred to in an earlier post.

Katerina & I

I knew Katerina was a Mossad agent from her mannerisms.

I could tell she was a pro. Her body structure showed she was quite strong, probably well trained in hand-to-hand combat.

I noticed that she always made sure she was aware where I was at all times.

I, on the other hand, behaved as though I was not aware that she was spying on me.

Something I noticed about the Mossad agents I met at SCGH was that they were very, very friendly and courteous. And Katerina was no exception.

If I went to talk to another worker, she would show up mysteriously.

Many are the times when she also joined the conversation discreetly.

After a few weeks, I was certain she was a Mossad agent.

She tried very hard to create a kind of friendship between us, but since it was not in my interest, I did all I could to keep her at a distance.

I had known earlier that one of the missions of the agents was to besmirch my name.

I had no doubt that Katerina was doing her part behind my back, discreetly destroying my reputation among my colleagues, but, of course, I had no evidence.

I wondered what her other missions were.

Katerina Missions

Since Mossad has been on my case for a long time, I have become curious and wondered how they operate.

I have wondered, how are they able to make an ordinary person do something bad/unethical against me?

And yet when I try to explain my side of the story, the other person (normally a very good person) is not the least interested in my explanation?

I once had the opportunity to understand how they operate regarding this matter.

One day, I was told by two colleagues that a certain guy, who also worked at SCGH was looking for me.

I will call him Troy (not his real name).

A few minutes later, as I was resting in a room alone, Troy entered.

He was very, very furious with me.

In all the time I had worked there, I had never seen another person so openly angry with me.

Because of my situation, it is very important that I walk away from such belligerent persons.

But the guy was standing at the door, so there was no escape for me.

He was accusing me of something I had not done, so I tried to explain, but he would hear none of it.

We started arguing. I lost control, and the argument turned into a quarrel. We were almost getting physical, when another worker separated us.

When I cooled down and thought clearly about that situation, there was no doubt on my mind that it was all a set-up.

I was certain someone had deliberately fed Troy wrong information, and cleverly incited him against me.

Could Mossad have been behind the altercation, and what would they gain?

Well, I have come to learn about some very unusual Mossad tactics.

For instance, they don't send someone to beat you up, as most people would do if they hated someone deeply, and had such an opportunity.

They will send someone to provoke you, so you can lose your temper, beat up that person, and you end up in jail.

That is why they can terrorise a person without them technically breaking the law.

A few weeks after the incident with Troy, Katerina approached me and told me about a certain matter.

If I had any doubt that she was a Mossad agent, that doubt ended right there.

I immediately knew she was the person who had incited Troy against me, because what she told me regarding another worker (I will call him Pi, not his real name) was meant to incite me to go into a rage against Pi, in the same way Troy had done against me.

Apparently, she didn't know I knew who she was working for.

I wasn't interested in her cock and bull story.

I think she realised then that I was suspicious of her.

I never saw her again.

From that Katerina inciting incident, I learnt why Mossad is so successful when they want an ordinary person to perform a bad/unethical/illegal task for them.

1. The person telling you something, tells it in a way to 'prove' to you they are not interested in what they are telling you.

There is no benefit the person giving you the information will gain by passing you that information.

2. They play mind games.

This is very difficult to explain.

This how Katerina wanted to program me.

Mossad's Use of Unusual Tactics

I will use an analogy to explain some tactics I have seen Mossad use, and how a good person can be used by them without knowing, to hurt another person on their behalf.

Consider this situation: A man recently came to live in a nearby house.

He is called Jack, and is right-handed, like most people are.

Someone informs you that he pities Jack so much because he is left-handed, but he is so self-conscious about it, and forces himself to use his right hand...

Now, if someone tells you that, the last thing on your mind would be that it could be a lie.

Why would someone lie about something like that?

What would he gain?

So you will believe that story about Jack.

If a few weeks later you hear a rumour about a pervert thought to be living in the area, and it is believed he is naturally left-handed, what will come to your mind?

You might want to discuss the issue of Jack with a few friends...

You might not even remember the person who first told you about him.

That is how Mossad operates.
